

CE4O&G Edition 2024 – tentative timetable

Session	Session parts	Lecturers & guest lecturers	Session date & time
Session 1: Kick off and keynote	Greeting and Overview of course: Focused on program overview (content, platform) and joint knowledge sharing and Keynote lecture: mportance of Natural Resource Management for Sustainable Future	Dolores Modic and Janez Potocnik, ex-EU Commissioner, and UN IRP co-chair	Monday, April 22, 2024, 16:00h-18:00
Session 2: Intro session	Introductory Lecture: Definitions, principles, and concepts Lecture: Drivers and barriers of CE Asynchronous lecture: Towards circular business models	Dolores Modic Elena Dybtsyna Dolores Modic	Wednesday, April 24, 16:00-18:00
Session 3: Industry panel	Industry input: Circularity and R strategies in Oil and Gas & Transforming to a broad and global energy company Industry input: Sustainability and circularity in the oil and gas Industry input: Energy transition in the north, opportunities, and challenges: the supplier view	Ole Evensen & Sebastian Ng, Equinor Hazel Margrethe Perrens, Offshore Norge Kjell Giæver, Arctic Energy Partners	Monday, April 29, 16:00-19:00
Session 4: Innovation, circular business models and collaboration	Lecture: An intro to innovation for CE in the oil&gas industry Industry Input: Digital solutions in O&G supporting the transition Lecture: Collaboration (and supply chains) for CE & session for course task	Dolores Modic Ole Evensen, Sustain-ability Rannveig Edda Hjaltadóttir	Friday, May 3, 16:00-19:00
Session 5: Experts' session	Lecture: Circular procurement Expert's input: Accounting considerations for the circular economy Expert's input: How can the oil and gas sector be financed using sustainable financing?	Elena Dybtsyna Hans Christian Ellefsen, Regnskap Norge Reynir Smári Atlason, CreditInfo Iceland	Monday, May 13, 16:00-19:00
Wrap up session	Interactive session: How sustainable is circular (tentative)	Experts & course participants	Wednesday, May 22, 16:30-18:00

All lectures will also be recorded, and the recordings available afterwards to the participants of the course, to allow for more flexibility. We will also share other asynchronous material that has been created for this course.