

UK GDPR Privacy Statement – Elected Members May 2022

This is the Privacy Statement for Cllr Audrey Doig, an Elected Member of Renfrewshire Council.

To serve the interests of my constituents and allow me to fulfil my role as an Elected Member of the Council, I need to collect, store, use, share and dispose of personal data. This is called data processing. When I process personal data, I need to comply with data protection legislation, including the UK GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018.

The information contained in this Privacy Statement explains how I will use your personal data as an Elected Member of the Council.

About me:

I am Audrey Doig, Elected Member for Linwood, Houston & Crosslee, and a member the Scottish National Party. Details of my appointments within the Council, outside appointment, surgery details and my register of interests can be seen on the Council website at Renfrewshire Council members section.

Organisations or individuals that determine how your personal data will be used are known as Data Controllers. I am a Data Controller.

Why do I need your personal information and what do I do with it?

As an Elected Member, I will only be able to look into concerns which you raise if I can use your personal information, for example so I can contact you with the result of my inquiries. If your query relates to your own involvement with the Council, then I will need details of this involvement to be able to assist you.

I also receive information about individuals from third parties such as constituents who have raised queries or complaints about other people, and I receive information from the Council relating to individuals where the matter in question is being reported to a Council Board.

Legal basis for using your information:

If you have contacted me and provided me with your personal information, I will use your information to carry out my functions as an Elected Member.

For most purposes, I process personal data (including special category data) on the basis that it is necessary for me as an Elected Member to use personal data for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest. I will not ask for consent in cases where I need to process your information to carry out my public function. This is the case whether I have received the information directly from an you (e.g., where you approach me with an issue and provide me with personal data to allow me to assist you) as well as situations where the Council or another agency provides me with information about you.

For some activities, I also need to process more sensitive personal information about you for reasons of substantial public interest as set out in the Data Protection Act 2018. It is necessary for me to process this more sensitive information for a number of reasons including:

- to carry out key functions as set out in law;
- in order to protect your vital interests or the vital interests of others in circumstances where I will not be able to seek your consent; or
- with your explicit consent.

Who do I share your information with?

As an Elected Member of Renfrewshire Council, I would normally pass your details, and the detail of the situation you have sought my help about, to the Council in order to allow the Council to look into the issue. This would also apply if I have been asked to assist with someone's dealings with any other agency such as a registered social landlord (i.e., a housing association). I do not generally pass personal details of constituents who contact me to anyone else unless I am required to do so by law or where this is in connection with a criminal investigation.

International transfers:

All data which I hold is held within the UK.

How long will I keep your information for?

I will only keep your personal information for the duration of the Council term, which means normally for a maximum of five years. I will dispose of any records (both paper and electronic) in a secure manner.

Your rights under data protection law:

- access to your information – you have the right to request a copy of the personal information that I hold about you.
- correcting your information – I want to make sure that your personal information is accurate, complete and up to date. Therefore, you may ask me to correct any personal information about you that you believe does not meet these standards.
- Deletion of your information – you have the right to ask me to delete personal information about you where:
 - I. you think that I no longer need to hold the information for the purposes for which it was originally obtained;
 - II. I am using that information with your consent and you have withdrawn your consent – see Withdrawing consent to using your information below;
 - III. you have a genuine objection to my use of your personal information – see Objecting to how I may use your information below
 - IV. my use of your personal information is contrary to law or other legal obligations.

Objecting to how I may use your information:

You have the right at any time to tell me to stop using your personal information for direct marketing purposes. I will only use your information to provide you with general updates on my activity as a Councillor, and on events within the ward, with your consent.

Restricting how I may use your information:

In some cases, you may ask me to restrict how I use your personal information. This right might apply, for example, where I am checking the accuracy of personal information that I hold about you. This right might also apply if I no longer have a basis for using your personal information but you don't want me to delete this. Where this right is realistically applied this will mean that I may only use the relevant personal information with your consent, for legal claims or where there are other public interest grounds to do so.

Withdrawing consent to use your information:

Where I use your personal information with your consent, such as marketing, you may withdraw that consent at any time, and I will stop using your personal information for the purpose(s) for which consent was given.

Please contact me as stated above if you wish to exercise any of these rights.

Information I hold about other people:

Most of the personal information I hold relates to people who have approached me in connection with a particular issue. However, I also hold information about other people as well, where this has been given to me in connection with such an issue. In some cases, I will contact these other people directly to inform them that I have been provided with information about them (and also to tell them about their rights under data protection law and advise them about the terms of this Privacy Statement) but in many cases this is impractical. I will may hold third party information in connection with attempts to get the Council to take some sort of enforcement action and it would not be appropriate for me to contact third parties in these sorts of circumstances.

Profiling or automated decision-making processes:

I do not make use of automated decision-making processes or profiling.

Complaints:

If you are unhappy about how I have handled your personal information I would be happy if you raised this with me directly in the first instance. However, you also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office, who can be contacted by post at: Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire, SK9 5AF. By phone on 0303 123 1113 (local rate) or 01625 545 745. Visit their website for more information at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns>
